

The Conference on Consumer Finance Law

Annual Consumer Financial Services Conference

Sept. 15-16, 2016 | Loyola University Chicago School of Law | Chicago, Illinois

About the Conference

This is a two-day conference in the Power Rogers and Smith Courtrooms. We believe this will maximize the use of your time, and focus our Program on only the highest quality of presentations, on the most pertinent issues.

On the first day, we will address issues common to many types of companies, or of general interest.

On the second day, we will have two separate tracks in the morning.

Track One on Day 2 will address mortgage lending and servicing issues. Track Two will address debt collection and bankruptcy issues.

We will then meet together in the afternoon for final presentations on issues of common interest.

CLE Credits to Be Provided

12 hours CLE credit of MCLE, including 1 hour of ethics, will be given to Program attendees.

PROGRAM SUGGESTIONS REQUESTED

We will be setting the specific topics to be addressed at the Conference by June 30, 2016.

We welcome suggested topics. For example, if there is a regulatory announcement or federal appellate court ruling that you believe has substantial impact on one or more aspects of consumer lending, please let us know. We are especially interested in hearing from in-house counsel, as to what they believe would be most useful for them and/or their colleagues within their legal department.

If you believe we should cover any specific topics, please send your suggestions via email to: CCFL@MauriceWutscher.com

Speaker Nominations Welcome

We will be identifying the speakers who will present on specific topics at the Conference by June 30, 2016.

We welcome speaker nominations. Please provide the specific topic that your nominee might address, and please do not nominate yourself. If you would like to speak at the Conference, please ask another person who is also knowledgeable in the consumer financial services field to nominate you to speak on a specific topic, and ask them to identify the specific topic.

If you would like to nominate someone to speak, please send your suggestions with the specific topic proposed via email to: CCFL@MauriceWutscher.com

About Us: Conference on Consumer Finance Law

The Conference on Consumer Finance Law (CCFL) is a non-profit organization founded in 1926 by members of the legal profession and the financial services industry to offer educational services, publications and research relating to consumer financial services law.

A Governing Committee of members establishes policies and directs the activities of the CCFL.

The CCFL publishes the Consumer Finance Law Quarterly Report, a law journal that examines legislation, regulations, court decisions and related legal developments in the consumer financial services industry.

The CCFL sponsors the Frederick Fisher Memorial Program, a debate among industry representatives, consumer advocates and government officials on a topical issue affecting consumer finance. This program is offered annually in conjunction with the American Bar Association Consumer Financial Services Committee at the spring meeting of the Business Law Section.
