The Conference on Consumer Finance Law
Annual Consumer Financial Services Conference
November 7-8, 2019 | Texas A&M University School of Law | Ft. Worth, TX

About the Conference
This is a two-day conference. We believe this will maximize the use of your time with the highest quality presentations on the most pertinent issues facing the industry.

On the first day, we will address issues common to most financial services companies, including TCPA, FinTech litigation, class action litigation and small dollar lending. On the afternoon of the first day, we will have two separate tracks - Track One will address mortgage finance and Track Two will address auto finance.

On the morning of the second day, we will meet together again for additional presentations on issues of common interest, including credit reporting and payment systems. We will have one more session in each of the mortgage and auto finance tracks that morning. In the afternoon, we will conclude with sessions covering Fintech regulations, CCPA and ethics.

The panels are comprised of top consumer finance lawyers who practice both at law firms and in house at financial industry companies. The Conference also provides excellent opportunities to expand your network.

CLE Credits to Be Provided
13 hours CLE credit of MCLE, including 1 hour of ethics, may be available to Program attendees.

Conference Facilities
The Conference will be held at the Amon G. Carter Lecture Hall at Texas A&M University School of Law, with the Track Two breakout sessions in other classrooms.
